A Bear's Unusual Outing

Some of us might be lucky enough to see a bear in its natural habitat. However, most of us are not able to travel to China to see a giant panda or to Russia to see a black bear. In January 2018, however, residents of Innisfail in Alberta, Canada were astonished to see a Kodiak bear in their own town. It had come from a local animal sanctuary, called Discovery Wildlife Park.

Doug Bos is co-founder of the animal park, which provides a home for tigers, monkeys, bears and other animals. They have all been saved from suffering in different situations. Some used to be exotic pets, others were injured in the wild or are orphans, meaning they have no parents. They would be unable to survive if released into the wild, so the animals have been brought from across the country and given a safe place where they can spend the rest of their lives.

The park made headlines recently, when Doug took one of his bears on an unusual trip. Berkley had been found orphaned in a forest at three months old. He weighed just seven pounds when Doug started raising him. Now, at aged one, Berkley is happy and healthy. The bear, who Doug says is perfectly safe near people, was taken to a drive-through ice cream parlour in local Innisfail. Berkley was sitting in the passenger seat of the truck, which pulled up to the service window of the Dairy Queen, where he was hand fed an ice cream by the café owner. A video of the visit was filmed by a zoo employee and shared on social media by the zoo themselves.

Wildlife officials questioned the zookeepers after seeing the film. Doug and co-owner Debbie Rowland insisted they had kept the bear securely in the car but admitted they had forgotten to notify the Fish and Wildlife Department about taking Berkley off the premises. They have taken bears to TV studios for commercial advertising before. This time, officials charged the owners for not keeping the local authority informed. Berkley, however, totally enjoyed his ice cream.

In questions 1-3, please answer in complete sentences. (2 marks each)

1. In what country is Discovery Wildlife Park?

2. Why was Berkley rescued from the wild?

3. How did wildlife officials know about Berkley's visit into town?

A. Based on a true story, this film follows the life of baseball star, Joe Jackson, nicknamed Shoeless Joe, in the early 1900s. Through documentary evidence, it deals with the real events of the 1919 Black Sox Scandal, when Shoeless Joe and seven of his Chicago team mates were accused of intentionally losing the baseball series, in exchange for money. It is a fascinating look at an important period in baseball's development.

B. Carla Bay is an exciting action film, which brings together actors from over 10 different countries, speaking four different languages. The dialogue is fast, and the storyline is so hard to follow that it will leave you asking questions long after you have left the cinema. However, it's fast, fun, dramatic and the scenery is beautiful.

C. This film is set in New York and follows the lives and rivalry of two young dancers, Mathilda and Jack. Despite their initial hatred for each other in dance class, it is clear they are gradually falling in love. A marvellous soundtrack of songs mainly from the 80s and 90s keeps this film lively and entertaining, with plenty of opportunity to sing along.

D. In The Trailer, a family of four desperately tried to survive in a world which wanted to destroy them. It was named 'the most terrifying horror of the decade'. Now the family's back in Trailer Two, but you can see both films for £5. That's less than a normal cinema ticket. This will have you on the edge of your seat all night – or maybe under it!

E. Our House is the hilarious story about a family of rats living in an exclusive area of Manhattan. With some wonderful cartoon characters, great animation and a storyline which will keep you laughing all the way through, Our House is sure to be a hit with all the family.
