Marks Awarded

Annie (A)

My name's Annie and I live with my husband in the city. I work in an office and I go there by train. I don't like my job because it's boring. When I'm not working, I like seeing my family. I have four brothers and five sisters! We eat at restaurants together because none of us can cook. Sometimes I play tennis with my friend. There's so much to do in the city. I never go to the countryside.

Ben (B)

I'm Ben and I live alone in a city apartment. I'm a teacher and I always go to work on my bike. I love my job because I like helping people learn. I have lots of friends but my family is small. At the weekend, I often cook meals for my friends. They say my food is delicious! I like watching tennis on TV but I never play it. I go walking in the countryside for exercise.

Eddie's Adventure

Nikki is a zookeeper in Scotland. She looks after several animals, but last week she was worried because a wallaby ran away. A wallaby looks like a small kangaroo. The wallaby, called Eddie, climbed out through a hole in a gate on Sunday. The cameras in the zoo showed Eddie go across the road and into the fields of a local farm. Eddie arrived at the zoo for the first time on Saturday. The next day he ran away.

Wallabies are good at finding plants to eat, and a farm is the perfect place to find them. When Nikki found out on Monday that Eddie was missing, she was confident he wasn't scared, but she kept thinking about Eddie in the cold weather. Wallabies are from Australia and must keep warm. 'We have six wallabies here and they all have heat lamps,' Nikki said.

Nikki was working at the zoo on Monday, so Nikki's son and his friend searched for Eddie. They looked in the fields but couldn't find him, and hoped that Eddie was in someone's garden. 'Wallabies are too fast to chase,' said Nikki's son. 'You must get them in a small space or corner to catch them.' Then, a local restaurant rang Nikki. Eddie was sitting on the floor and was enjoying some salad! 'We are really glad to have him back,' said Nikki.

For questions 1–3, please answer in complete sentences. (2 marks each)

1. How did Eddie get out of the zoo?

2. Who went out to look for Eddie?

3. What is the best way to catch a wallaby?
